CHICAGO (P) — Five robbers, armed with a machinegun, shotgun and pistols, took almost $50,000 in a bold daylight holdup of the Ashland State Bank today.

Bank officials at first estimated the loot at about $25,000, but later reported an audit showed $46,878 was missing.

The gunmen, wearing black stockings with eye-slits over their heads, charged into the bank through a side door a few minutes after opening time, menaced bank employees and then vaulted over counters into the tellers' cages.

"It happened so fast it didn't seem real," said Mrs. Vern Anderson, 48, who was working in one of the cages.

Mrs. Anderson dropped with both hands on the holdup alarm, but the robbers were gone within minutes.

The bank, on Chicago's South Side at 9443 South Ashland Ave., opened for business only five

Hungry Chicagoan, Missing For Week, Is Found In Park

CHICAGO (P) — Shoeless and hungry, William C. Groebel, 59-year-old suburban Park Ridge civic leader who had been missing a week, today was found unharmed in downtown Grant Park.

Relatives and police had feared he might not be found alive. He had written his wife, in a letter postmarked in Chicago Tuesday, after his disappearance June 24, that he contemplated suicide.

Groebel, executive secretary of the Park Ridge Chamber of Commerce, was found seated on a park bench by two policemen. He readily admitted his identity and asked for food. He said he had not eaten for two days.

Taken to the Park District police headquarters, Groebel told police and newsmen that he had been sleeping in the park, bus stations, hotel lobbies and movies since leaving his home.

"I wanted to get away from it all," he said in explaining his disappearance. "I have high blood pressure, and I figured I wasn't getting anywhere."

He said he had been suffering from "terrific" headaches, and that he did not want his wife, Orpha, to know about them. He said he had $8 when he left his home June 24 and the money ran out three days later.

He said his shoes were stolen Thursday night while he was sleeping in the park.

Laxity Denied In Control Of Liquor Stamps

LANSING (P) — Audit criticisms of the State Liquor Control Commission were called exaggerated today by Chairman George J. Burke.

The criticisms were made by Aud. Gen. John B. Martin after a full-dress audit of the commission's operations.

Martin said there appeared to be carelessness in handling the Michigan identification stamps sold to liquor vendors to paste on liquor bottles as proof the state tax has been paid.

He also charged that there was inadequate control over liquor licenses.

No Bootlegging

The auditor general said, "It is possible that a large number of stamps may have gotten into improper hands without the commission having become aware of it."

He said there appeared to an excessively large number of stamps reported by vendors as "mutilated" or "lost" and that some vendors held a total of 700,000 stamps without having done business with the state for two to seven years.

"I don't see how the stamps can get into improper hands," Burke said. "There is not a single recorded case of state stamps being found on a bottle of bootleg whiskey in Michigan."

Burke said distillers bought the stamps from the state for $1.20 per thousand and preferred to waste them rather than hold up bottling lines if the stamps failed to stick.

Burke flatly denies the charge of looseness in handling of liquor licenses.

Licenses Are Gag

"The auditor general's report makes it look like we have been issuing licenses to influential people to hang in their recreation rooms and cottages as a gag," he said.

"What has happened is this: For 20 years people have been getting old licenses from us for a gag, but they are always expired licenses. Of course, when the auditors go over last year's records they find these license blanks gone, but they were issued after the license year expired."

Burke said the commission would ask the Legislature next year to authorize automatic renewal of liquor licenses except for those against which a "stop" order had been placed.

"If we could do that," he said, "we could eliminate all manual handling of licenses. This would correct any chance of misuse such as worries the auditor general."

Red River Delta Cities Occupied By Communists

By FORREST EDWARDS

HANOI, Indochina (P) — The French announced today their troops have "successfully completed" evacuation of five fortified cities and 2,000 square miles of populous rice land in the south of the Red River delta.

Most of the thousands of soldiers involved in the massive withdrawal already have taken up defense positions farther north around Hanoi, an army spokesman said.

Under Red Flag

Vietninh efforts to disrupt the movement were beaten off with only a few French soldiers killed, he said, and there was "almost no loss of ammunition, vehicles or guns."

In Singapore, Associated Press Correspondent Larry Allen, who recently left Indochina after two years, reported Thursday that the windup of the operation would leave more than half of the strategic Red River delta in control of the Communist-led Vietninh and put an additional four million Vietnamese under the Red flag.

The major centers abandoned to the rebels were Nam Dinh, Ninh Binh, Phat Diem, Lac Quan and Thai Binh. They spread in an arc 50 to 75 miles south and southeast of the French headquarters city of Hanoi.

Cotton Mill Lost

The new southern front in the Red River lowlands runs a wavering line from south of Phu Ly, 30 miles south of Hanoi, eastward to the seacoast. The line is parallel with and about 25 miles south of the railway and highway linking Hanoi with the seaport of Haiphong. The French must defend this "lifeline" route to the last, as it is the only supply line and escape corridor for the tens of thousands of French Union troops in North Indochina.

One of the richest prizes to go to the Vietninh in the French evacuation was the six-million-dollar cotton spinning mill at Nam Dinh, the largest textile factory in Indochina.

Hundreds of shops and other businesses run by French civilians and wealthy Vietnamese were abandoned as thousands of persons fled along with the army garrisons.

Tax Revision Bill Speeded Up In Congress

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (P) — Weary senators, a marathon session behind them and promise of a three-day holiday ahead, gathered for a quick push to final passage today of the administration's disputed tax overhaul bill.

Leaders on both sides predicted the remaining half-dozen or so amendments would be disposed of in short order.

Several senators said they planned to vote against the giant tax revision measure on final passage. But its approval, pretty much in the form sought by President Eisenhower, seemed assured.

Members were saddened by the death of 76-year-old Sen. Hugh Butler of Nebraska, announced in the chamber just before the Senate wound up 13 hours of debate at midnight Thursday.

Butler was the second-ranking Republican on the Finance Committee, which wrote the Senate version of the bill.

Sen. Long (D-La.) revived the income tax cut issue Thursday with a plan whose effect was in between two earlier amendments, one Democratic and the other Republican - sponsored, which had gone down to defeat by identical 49-47 votes Wednesday.

Long proposed to give every taxpayer a $20 cut by a credit on his return - a $1,400,000,000 annual tax reduction. But he lost 50-33.

The only major administration-sought provision which has been mauling in the Senate is the one to give relief to stockholders on dividend income.

As this provision was approved in the House, it would give exemption on $50 of dividend income and permit the taxpayer to deduct 5 percent on his dividend income above $50 from his tax in the first year of the bill. In the future years, the exclusion would be $100 and the credit 10 percent.

But as whittled down in two days of Senate voting, only the exemption of $50 remained. The administration, however, will get a chance to restore at least part of the House benefit in conference.

Pinconning Safe Cracking Solved

SAGINAW (P) — Past teamwork between Saginaw and state police nailed two of three youths in connection with two Pinconning safe cracking jobs Thursday.

It also gave some good clues toward the third.

State Police Detective Russell Aldrich of the Bay City post was telling Donald Berg, a Saginaw detective, about the youths when the phone on Berg's desk rang.

Berg said the call was a tip on two youths, reportedly in some trouble, walking in downtown Saginaw.

Minutes later teams of police headed into the area. Berg spotted and arrested Steve Leroy Gerzeski, 17, and Robert James Patrick, 19, both of Pinconning. Berg said they told him their buddy John A. Shaw, also of Pinconning, was next door getting his picture taken.

Shaw evidently saw them coming. He was gone when police entered, but on the floor was a freshly printed picture. Berg said the other two youths told him the three had committed the Pinconning burglaries.

They led police to an estimated $4,000 in cash and goods from the Pinconning thefts and a drug store burglar in Au Gres.

Warrants were issued charging the youths with breaking and entering at night.

Korean Veteran Kills His Rival

DETROIT (P) — A 30-year-old former Marine who came from Georgia to find his wife and two children was held for investigation of murder today.

Police said Denny L. Craddock, a medically discharged Korean veteran, shot and killed Ernest A. Trullard, 29, the man his wife wanted to marry.

Craddock came to Detroit Wednesday from East Point, Ga., police said, to find his wife Julia, and their two children, Dale, 7, and Lydia, 3.

His wife had written him while he was in service, asking for a divorce. Craddock told police, He followed her to the Detroit home of her mother, Mrs. Gordon Robinson. He gave this account:

Trullard heard Craddock was in town and took Mrs. Craddock to the home of a friend. He returned to Mrs. Robinson's home for the children where he met Craddock.

Craddock asked Trullard to take a ride "to talk things over."

The children accompanied them. Trullard tried to leave the car at an intersection. Police said Craddock told them he drew a .30 automatic and shot Trullard.

Allied Leaders Expect French Loss In Indochina

Editor's Note—How close is the free world to losing out in Southeast Asia?

Did Eisenhower and Churchill really settle British-American disputes?

What are the United States and Britain really trying to do about Indochina?

In the following story, AP diplomatic reporter John M. Hightower looks behind the scenes.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER AP Diplomatic Reporter

WASHINGTON (P) — Top Allied leaders are resigned to losing a great block of Indochina to the Communists.

The shooting war was around Hanoi and peace negotiations between French-led forces and the Communists have gone beyond the point where the United States can influence them decisively.

The issue of Red Chinese bids for recognition and for United Nations membership is expected to press hard upon the heels of any Indochina settlement.

This issue promises to make grave trouble among the United States, Britain and France.

It is exactly a week now since Sir Winston Churchill flew into Washington with Foreign Secretary Eden to talk with President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles.

Allingham Renamed To Peninsula Fair Board At Escanaba

LANSING (P) — Gov. Williams made five appointments and reappointments to state agencies today.

He named Lawrence Tucker, editor of the Iron Mountain News, to the State Tourist Council for a term expiring April 18, 1959. Tucker succeeds Earl M. Johnson of Prudenville, whose term has expired.

Williams reappointed Charles T. Fisher of Detroit and William J. Cochran of Iron Mountain to the Mackinac Bridge Authority for terms expiring June 30, 1960.

He reappointed Mrs. Frances Burns of Grand Rapids to the State Board of Cosmetology for a term expiring July 6, 1957, and Richard E. Allingham of Escanaba to the board of managers of the Upper Peninsula State Fair for a term expiring May 24, 1959.

Business Earnings Chances Look Good

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (P) — Bookkeepers are totting up their profit and loss entries today for American industry's first six months. The chances look fairly good that as a whole business will have earned about as much in the nervous six months just ended as it did in 1953's cocky first half year.

First indications of this are given today by some companies with off-beat fiscal years. These are the ones whose first six-month periods closed in May or April, instead of June 30, as with most corporations. Reports of most industrial companies won't be coming in volume until the end of the month.

Banks, however, will be reporting over the coming weekend. Most are expected to show income equal or surpassing a year ago. Interest rates were easing during the period, but the banks had a lot of money to invest and returns from their securities will sweeten their statements.

Some 22 of the industrial companies with off-beat fiscal years have reported. Fourteen, or two-thirds of them, did better this year in net earnings after taxes than they did in the similar six months a year earlier.

But among the eight with lower profits this year was the one really big company in the lot. This rubber firm reflects the troubles of some companies in the auto industry this year. These customers of the rubber company weren't buying as many tires for original equipment, so the rubber firm's profits dropped three million dollars from the year before.

Without the rubber company, the other 21 corporations would have turned in a collective record card 7 per cent better than last year's.

Flood Toll May Hit 400 In Texas

EAGLE PASS, Tex. (P) — The Rio Grande was back in its banks today, its receding waters carrying the secret of how many died and leaving mounds of foul, disease-breeding mud.

Hidden in the muck and in the draining waters was the answer to whether the best available figures — 62 dead, 90 to 400 missing — fall short of the truth.

President Eisenhower declared the stricken borderland eligible for disaster loans. Gov. Allan Shivers' own state disaster task force flew to the border to work with the federal people. The Red Cross, the Salvation Army and individuals had little rest.

Clothing, food, medicine and money were on the way.

The need was greatest across the river in Piedras Negras, whose announced toll of 38 dead and 90 missing may be a mockery. One Mexican army major said the dead there may number more than 400.

Nebraska GOP Solon Dies At 76

By DONALD SANDERS

WASHINGTON (P) — Republican Sen. Hugh Butler of Nebraska died at the age of 76 Thursday night, the fourth U. S. senator and the second from his state to succumb this year.

Butler, who had been elected to his third six-year term two years ago, suffered a stroke Wednesday night.

A former grain dealer, he was a strong campaigner who defeated several governors in his various campaigns for the Senate. He was active in Rotary and the Congregational Church.

His wife and two children preceded him in death.

Sen. Eva Bowring (R-Neb.) announced his death in the Senate, working late on a big tax revision bill, and it immediately recessed out of respect. Mrs. Bowring is serving by appointment, filling the vacancy created April 12 when Republican Sen. Dwight P. Griswold died, also after a heart attack.

Two other senators have died this year: Clyde R. Hoey (D-NC), 76, and Lester C. Hunt (D-Wyo.), 61. Hoey suffered a heart attack; Hunt shot himself.

Butler's death will not affect the Senate lineup, now 47 Republicans, 47 Democrats and 1 independent. Gov. Robert Crosby of Nebraska is a Republican and will appoint a Republican to serve until the November election.

Rebuke For Rhee

SEOUL (P) — South Korea's newly elected National Assembly today handed President Syngman Rhee a stiff and unexpected rebuke by refusing to confirm his new Cabinet. Many of Rhee's own Liberal party members bolted to join independents and Democratic Nationalists in withholding confidence from the slate of ministers.

Boy Suffocates In Old Icebox

HOPEWELL, N. J. (P) — A 9-year-old boy suffocated in an unused ice box Thursday night while his parents were attending a funeral.

He was Archibald Waldron Jr. The ice box was lying on its back in the basement, Mrs. Esther Coleman of Hopewell Borough.

Mrs. Coleman told state police she missed the boy at supper time.

The Waldrons returned from the funeral of a friend in Trenton at 8 p. m. and started a search.

State police were called and two troopers found the boy's body in a compartment of the unused ice box.

They theorized that Archibald climbed into the box and the heavy door slammed shut, trapping him inside. The thick sides muffled his cries.

State police said state law on discarded ice boxes does not, in their opinion, hold in this case since the box was not accessible and was not standing upright.

Mrs. Coleman said a friend gave her the ice box last week and she planned to store provisions in it.

City Accepts Bids On Trucks

The Escanaba City Council accepted seven bids on trucks and other equipment submitted at the regular Council meeting Thursday evening.

Bids for 4,000 tons of coal, 3,000 cubic yards of topsoil, and a nine months liquefied petroleum gas supply were referred to City department heads for further study and analysis.

Buy Concrete Pipe

The Upper Peninsula Concrete Pipe Co., bid on 15, 10, and eight-inch pipe was accepted. The bid was: for 15-inch pipe, $1.26 per linear foot; 10-inch, $.84 per linear foot; and eight-inch, $.45 per linear foot. The F. Hurlbut Co. of Green Bay got the bid for 24-inch pipe at $2.50 per linear foot.

The bids for ready mixed concrete were identical so Council decided to split the concrete purchases equally between the bidders, the Brown and the Escanaba Concrete Companies.

City Clerk, George Harvey reported that the proposed Escanaba city charter was now in Lansing being studied by the attorney general's office.

Thank Charter Commission

The Council instructed the clerk to send letters of commendation to the Charter Commission members for their efforts during the past 18 months. A recommendation was also made that the city clerk should be compensated for the extra time which he spent working with the Charter Commission outside of his regular duties.

Other business included the approval of a transfer of a liquor license from the John Peltier estate to Florence Peltier and Fred St. Jacques.

The Council tabled the matter of courtesy parking tickets indefinitely. It was decided that the enforcement of parking meter violations had improved since no complaints from out-of-state motorists had been received for some time.

Einar Erlendson was reappointed as the labor representative on the Civil Service Commission.

Prison Trusty At Camp Cusino Eludes Guards

MARQUETTE — Law enforcement officers in the Upper Peninsula are conducting a search for a trusty who has escaped from the State Corrections Department's Conservation Camp at Cusino, in Alger County.

Being sought is Merrill Shorkey, 33, who was sentenced from Bay City to serve a two to 15-year term for breaking and entering in the night time.

Shorkey was transferred to Marquette Prison from Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson in September, 1953, as a trusty. The prison conservation camps in Upper Michigan are under the jurisdiction of the Marquette Prison.

Marquette Prison Warden Emery E. Jacques said Shorkey was missing at the 1:30 count Thursday morning. A bed check is taken every hour at the prison camps.

Shorkey is five feet, nine inches tall; weighs 151 pounds; has brown eyes and brown hair; a rudy complexion, and is of medium build.

The usual search is on, with state police, city police, Sheriff's Department and prison officers seeking the fugitive.

Local Bakery Out On Strike

The Hoyer and Baur Bakery of Escanaba was closed today by a strike of employees, members of the Teamsters Union. About 35 persons are affected by the strike.

Officials of the company and the union met Thursday with James Despins, federal mediator of Green Bay, in an effort to resolve the dispute. The dispute developed as a result of a company proposal to reduce wages of sales drivers $5 per week and inside employees 10c an hour. Company officials reported that the reduction is essential to meet "competitive inequality."

G. W. Rusch, director of human relations for the company, announced this morning that the company has about $2,000 in baked goods on hand that it desires to give to church, charitable organizations and relief organizations.

"We desire to see that this merchandise does not go to waste," Rusch said. "This baked goods will spoil if it is not consumed. Any person representing church or charitable organizations can have this merchandise if they will call for it."

More Showers In Prospect

Showery conditions will continue today, tonight and tomorrow becoming more pronounced tonight and early tomorrow morning with thunder showers, says S. E. Decker of the Escanaba Weather Bureau.

The cool air system which was supposed to reach this area late Saturday night moved faster than was expected from the states of Minnesota and Wisconsin, resulting in an early arrival to the upper lake region.

Because of this more rapid movement of the weather pattern than was indicated, the showers should be over by Saturday evening, resulting in a warmer, rainless weekend.

It was cool here last night with a recorded 52 degrees, but not as cool as the Sault Ste. Marie area which experienced a low of 46. The lowest temperature for Escanaba tonight will not be any cooler than the highest recorded today, Decker said, with tomorrow's temperatures climbing closer to 70.

Kimberly-Clark Plans Extensive Tree Nursery

NORWAY—A forest tree nursery is being developed by the William Bonifas Lumber company, a Kimberly-Clark subsidiary at the site of the old airport south of Loretto and near Lake Mary. The town of Norway and the company recently completed the transfer of title to the property.

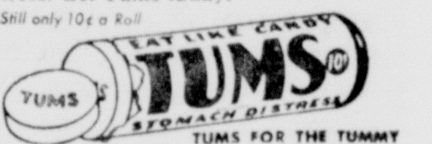

Building plans are being developed by Philip B. Thomas, a member of the Bonifas staff, in Iron Mountain, who is to be the nursery man; C. A. Samuelson, of Marquette, superintendent of planting, and J. B. Miller, chief forester of Kimberly-Clark's woodland headquarters at Neenah, Wis.

The airport site has been plowed and a soiling crop sown. Seed beds of spruce and pine will be started this fall. Two-year-old spruce seedlings from the North Star Timber company's nursery in Minnesota will be transplanted in the new nursery next spring. North Star also is a subsidiary of Kimberly-Clark.

Home Making Is Feature At Fair

A highly informative feature of the 1954 Upper Peninsula State Fair this year during the week of August 24-29, will be daily afternoon and evening demonstrations on a variety of homemaking activities. These demonstrations will be presented by 4-H demonstration teams, extension homemaker groups and county and district staff members of the Michigan State College Cooperative Extension Service.

Each day William G. Stump, Michigan State College extension specialist in forest products, will demonstrate how native wood is used for furniture and other home uses. William B. Love, college specialist in municipal forestry will appear daily and demonstrate how to properly transplant, prune and show the care for trees and shrubs.

Miss Bernice LaFreniere, Chippewa County home demonstration agent, will demonstrate the "Use of Dried Milk Solids." Roy E. Skog, extension forester, Marquette, will illustrate how a wind break should be laid out and planted to protect the home and farm buildings from cold winds and snow. 4-H Demonstration teams will also perform at the fair and will be chosen from top teams competing at Camp Shaw at Chatham during 4-H Club week during the last week in July.

Roy Skog of Marquette will be in charge of this program during the entire week of the fair. He will be assisted by Mrs. Hazel Crook, Alger-Schoolcraft County home demonstration agent.

Steel Wage Boost May Start Another Inflation Spiral

NEW YORK (AP)—Will a wage-price hike in the steel industry spread to other industries and start another inflation spiral?

Such spirals in postwar years sent the bread-buyer and the bread-winner into a race to keep up with each other. Wages went up generally, and prices went up generally. And the purchasing power of the dollar in the nation's stores took it on the chin.

Steel industry spokesmen say that the new wage hikes, plus the insurance and pension provisions of the new union contract, would justify a raise in the price of steel products.

Other Unions Envious
The question for them to decide is whether their customers will balk in these days of fierce competition in the steel business. Some steel products have competitors among the other metals and the plastics.

And the makers of autos, household gadgets and other big users of steel may argue that it's hard enough as it is to find customers for their products at present prices—let alone trying to pass along another steel price hike in the form of higher prices on consumer goods.

Since the wage and benefit package which the steel companies have negotiated with the steel workers is the most generous of any this year in a major industry, there's a chance that other unions will push hard for similar gains.

Managements in other industries would be just as convinced as the steel companies that hikes in labor costs justify a boost in consumer products.

Labor leaders, on the other hand, argue that corporate profits are high enough to absorb the wage increases without raising prices. In other postwar years wage boosts often laid the basis for another go-round of inflation.

No Shortages Now
This year, as in many other postwar years, there is also at hand that fertile seed-bed for inflation—a federal policy of easy money and easy credit.

But business observers point out today that other conditions aren't the same this year and that the chances of another inflationary spiral aren't great.

For one thing, the postwar shortages that sent customers scurrying to buy at any price are things of the past. Raising prices is one

Prices Raised By U. S. Steel

PITTSBURGH (AP)—U. S. Steel Corp., which produces more than one-third of the nation's steel, has announced an increase in prices averaging $3 a ton. The present price of basic carbon steel is $120 a ton.

The announcement comes two days after the nation's No. 1 producer signed a contract with the CIO United Steelworkers giving 190,000 employees a five-cent hourly wage hike and improved pension and insurance programs.

Other basic steel producers are expected to follow U. S. Steel's price boost since they also reached agreement with the union on similar contracts.

The company did not say immediately when the increases will become effective.

Benjamin F. Fairless, chairman of U. S. Steel, had said increases are necessary because of the new USW contract.

Union officials estimated that the improved pension and insurance programs will cost the company seven cents an hour and bring the total package to 12 cents. The company would not comment on the total cost.

thing. Getting people to buy at a higher price is another.

For another thing, consumer demand is much less active now. So many durable goods have been bought and installed in the nation's homes that the appetite for them, although not sated, is certainly not as great.

And finally, this time the consumer won't be competing with the military for goods. The defense program has been stretched out and military buying is considerably less than two years ago.

This means that there are plenty of goods to be had. Price-hiking, whether justified by costs or not, will be a tricky business.

More Than 300 Will Die In Accidents This Weekend

WITH sickening inevitability, more than 300 motorists in the United States will be killed in traffic accidents over the long Fourth of July weekend. Many others will drown and still others will die in other kinds of holiday accidents. Hundreds of persons will be injured, many of them maimed for life, in these holiday mishaps.

These figures are the estimates of the National Safety Council who in the past have been able to provide mournful but extremely accurate predictions of accident tolls for specific periods.

The important thing to you about all of these figures is that you can do something about seeing that you are not among the casualties. The answer is a simple one. If you are driving on the highways during the long weekend, drive carefully. Take no chances and use common sense. If you are going swimming or boating or fishing, see that you do it carefully and sensibly.

Speed is the big killer on the highways. Most of the motorists who pile up in highway accidents do so because at least one of the drivers involved is travelling too fast for traffic and road conditions. And those fatally injured are generally the passengers in the cars that are travelling with excessive speed.

Traffic accidents increase during holidays primarily because there are more cars on the highways during those periods. Impatience is a deadly fault with motorists. When there is a line of cars ahead, the urge to pull out of line and move ahead is compelling. The smart motorist will overcome the urge but the "take a chance" driver will yield to the desire. That's the point where accidents are conceived.

Law enforcement officers throughout the country are pleading with motorists to recognize the risk of holiday traffic and to act accordingly. Some will take the warning seriously but, alas, too many will ignore it. That's why the National Safety Council is pretty certain that more than 300 motorists will be victims of sudden death in the period from Friday night through Monday evening.

You can do a lot about saving your own life, though, if you really want to do it. And it won't require any great effort on your part.

Other Editorial Comments

MILITARY ALLIANCES NOT THE ONLY WEAPON

(Duluth News-Tribune)

Just before Sir Winston Churchill arrived in this country for the most recent talks, Herbert Hoover spoke at Chicago. Among other remarks, he said:

"If inside or outside of the United Nations the free nations could unite, they have many potent spiritual and even economic weapons at their disposal besides military alliances."

Actually, mere unity among the free nations would be a powerful deterrent to Communist aggression. Lack of that unity, in the crises of the last year or so, should be a cause of shame to every thinking person in the United States, Britain, France and the associated countries.

Placing the blame is interesting, but not rewarding. Finding the way back to unity, before we are all frightened into it by a major defeat, would benefit all of us, in innumerable ways.

If the President and the prime minister have charted a path back toward unity, the free world has reason to be thankful.

Questions and Answers

Q—Will the Seaway be handling more shipping than other American waterways and harbors?

A—A House committee report says Seaway traffic of more than 50 million tons a year is expected. This is about one and one-half times as much traffic as was handled in the San Francisco Bay area in 1951 (34 million tons) but only one-third that moving through New York Harbor (152 million). Some other comparisons: Port of Baltimore, 43 million tons in 1951; New Orleans, 38 million; Ohio River, 57 million; Mississippi River (Minneapolis to The Passes at the mouth), 73 million.

Q—Both Houses of Congress have passed bills making Hawaii a State in the Union and President Eisenhower says he favors Hawaiian statehood. So why isn't the Territory now the 49th state?

A—The House passed a Hawaiian statehood bill in 1953. The Senate passed its version April 1, adding Alaskan statehood. At that time the Senate requested a conference, a procedure often used when the chambers have passed versions of bills that are not in agreement. Unanimous consent is necessary in the House for agreement to a conference, and on April 12 the objection of a Member defeated a statehood conference move. The bill then went to the Rules Committee and a discharge petition (requiring signatures of 218 Members) or a resolution by the Rules Committee now would be necessary to permit the House to consider a motion for a conference on the statehood legislation.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Here's the inside story of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt's trip to Russia. The trip was proposed by Look publisher Gardner Cowles, who last year made a deal with Adlai Stevenson to report on a trip around the world. Adlai, however, visited no iron curtain countries.

Mrs. Roosevelt's first reaction was: "I don't think I'll ever get a visa. I've had so many set-tos with the Russians in the United Nations, I don't think they'll let me in."

But application was made—for her, plus a secretary, plus Look's European editor, William Atwood.

The visas came through for the two ladies—but not for editor Atwood. There was no rejection of visa—just no answer. Cowles cabled U. S. ambassador "Chip" Bohlen in Moscow, who put pressure on the foreign office. Mrs. Roosevelt wrote to the Soviet ambassador in Washington. No response to either.

Apparently the Soviets suspect Atwood was being tied to Mrs. Roosevelt's apron strings for the unwavering purpose of writing a series of articles of his own.

Note—For arranging this junket, Look has already received several cancellations of subscriptions, while Democratic politicians who want to promote the future of Franklin Roosevelt, Jr., aren't happy.

BACKSTAGE McCARTHY HASSLE

Top Republicans are still hassling over the most important topic inside the party: what to do about Joe McCarthy and whether to use him in the coming election campaign.

GOP congressman Dick Simpson of Pennsylvania highlighted the backstage conflict when he started this week that McCarthy would speak where wanted. This went directly contrary to the wishes of the White House, but Ike doesn't seem to have much influence with the party bosses these days.

Significantly both pro-McCarthyites and anti-McCarthyites inside GOP strategy councils are citing the Maine Senate race to prove their point. Anti-McCarthyite Republicans cite the thumping 5-to-1 victory of Sen. Margaret Chase Smith over a McCarthy-picked candidate to show that Joe has lost his political oomph. Pro-McCarthyites quote the Associated Press that Jones' landslide defeat in Maine "couldn't be labeled that for McCarthy" for he "was never a real concrete issue through the course of the campaign."

However, the AP didn't dig into the Maine facts. Here is the real political record which the people of Maine knew about when they voted and which shows that McCarthy was up to his eyebrows in the Maine race:

Maine facts—In August last year Senator McCarthy phoned ex-Senator Brewster of Maine to ask whether he or anyone else would run against Mrs. Smith. Brewster said he didn't think anyone would want to try. McCarthy observed that there was lots of out-of-state money to support anyone who would run against the lady... Aug. 25, Lee Mortimer reported in the Portland Express that Senator McCarthy would go into Maine to beat Mrs. Smith. (Mrs. Smith had once circulated the "declaration of conscience" against him)... Sept. 1, Robert L. Jones, on the staff of Senator Potter of Michigan, started traveling with McCarthy's one-man subcommittee, presumably representing Potter. McCarthy gave him the right to ask questions of witnesses, which is not the right of a senatorial observer... In November, young Jones was taken by McCarthy to the Fort Montmouth hearings, where Jones made a statement to the press about apparent Signal Corps espionage. Senatorial observers are not supposed to talk to the press, and this was an obvious build-up for Jones.

Jones strategy—November 12, McCarthy went further and embraced Lloyd Stover, the man who became campaign manager for Jones. Stover was then a lobbyist for the American Trucking Association, but McCarthy invited him to go to New York to help investigate General Electric. Jones also went along... Nov. 13, McCarthy arrived in Portland, accompanied by Jones and Stover... Nov. 14, McCarthy spoke before VFW, with Jones and Stover much in the spotlight... Nov. 15, McCarthy gave a repeat performance in Bangor, again with Jones and Stover in evidence... The first week of January a group gathered at Stover's apartment in Washington at night to talk about Jones' candidacy. It was agreed that McCarthy would hold hearings, preferably in Maine so Jones could cross-question witnesses. Seven thousand dollars more was to be raised to get Stover's name around the state, so later he could run for Congress. McCarthy was to give advice from the sidelines.

A nice, quiet place on a lake is what folks rent so all their friends can drop in unexpectedly and spoil everything.

Just an encouraging tip: you'll be able to buy from your grocer all the things you hoped would grow in your own garden.

It's getting to be quite a problem, for the man who wants to marry, to find a girl who will help him with the dishes.

Wandering Boys Of Germany Find Niche In Western Zone

By CORRINE HARDESTY

MAINZ, West Germany — (NEA)—A boy named Heinrich is working for a prosperous Mainz farmer today, learning to till the vineyards. Some day he hopes to have a vineyard of his own.

But 10 years ago, when his parents were killed in East Prussia, he was deported to Russia. In 1948, he was brought back to Germany's East Zone to become an interpreter for the People's Police.

In the Red Zone, getting to know too much is an occupational hazard. Last year, under pressure to join the Communist Party, Heinrich decided he knew too much and fled to the West.

Like thousands of others who have fled across the same border (21,000 so far this year alone), Heinrich had few resources but his wits. Many of the young refugees from 14 to 25 become vagabonds, living from hand to mouth in shacks and ruins.

But Heinrich got a break. He found his way in the Jugendsozialwerk unit in Mainz, and became one of the nearly 6000 boys that organization has helped back from the edges of society into a useful life with a future.

The Youth Social Work group got its start five years ago with two young refugees who had little money but a lot of faith in other "wandering youth" like themselves.

In the Black Forest near Tübingen, George Eberspach and Arnold Schroeder heard that foresters needed extra hands. They asked the foreman to hire a few young wanderers they could personally guarantee.

From this small beginning, almost without capital, grew an organization of 134 counselors and a skeleton office staff.

In addition to the 6000 already on the road to a new future, Eberspach and Schroeder are presently processing 2250 more. Today they have the help of some German government funds and a small grant from the American Friends Service Committee in the U. S.

First step is to bring boy and job together, with a counselor or leader coordinating groups of boys working in the same area at similar jobs.

It takes about six months for the "shake - down" period — to overcome the vagabond attitude

(Ted Castle Photos) START OF NEW LIFE for 17-year-old Bernard, who fled Germany's East Zone, is a job and home with this farmer near Mainz.

END OF WANDERING for these boys is at Jugendsozialwerk camp in West Germany, from which refugees will go to new life.

of the boys and the skepticism of employees toward refugees. After that, like Heinrich, they generally find their own niche.

"We work at this because we believe in the boys," says counselor Pritzlaff.

A refugee himself, he fled his job as agricultural instructor in the East Zone when he found he "was not expected to teach the boys to plow and sow, but to instruct them in political doctrine." Not all make the grade like Heinrich, but failures are less than ten per cent, says Jugendsozialwerk founder Schroeder.

"For the boys," he says, "we do not want them to be 'Jugendsozialwerk boys.' We want them to be contented members of their own communities. We will never have an alumni association."

Pentagon's House Cleaning To Get Rid Of Military Junk

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The most gigantic spring cleaning in history is under way.

Inspired by Secretary of Defense Charles Wilson, the project is called "Operation Clean Sweep."

Its goal: to clear out an estimated $5 billion worth of obsolete equipment and just plain junk from hundreds of military warehouses and depots around the country.

One of the most unbusinesslike procedures in the defense establishment, the former head of General Motors discovered when he became boss of the Pentagon, was the habit of commanders to accumulate big stocks of just about everything they could lay their hands on, from paper clips to anchor chains.

A preliminary study inspired by Wilson showed that the quantity of surplus was fantastic, that millions of dollars were being wasted in storage space and worst of all, the junk was piling up at an uncontrolled rate.

Wilson ordered a rigid accounting system and inventory control. And he started Clean Sweep to clear everything that wasn't needed to keep the services going or for strategic reserves.

The Navy, traditionally a careful storekeeper, was designated to coordinate the disposal of excess for all services.

Material declared excess is offered first to the other services, next to the civilian agencies, then to charitable and educational institutions and finally for public sale.

The great bulk of it is useless to the other agencies and is being sold for whatever it will bring.

During the first three months of 1954, $438 million worth of many thousands of different items were declared excess. Out of that only $18 million worth was claimed by other agencies and $17 million worth given to public organizations.

Some of the stuff is still being processed, but $317 million worth—original cost—has been sold, bringing to the U. S. Treasury $16 million in cash. And the experts consider this a pretty good return.

Good Evening...

Peter Edson, NEA columnist will substitute for two weeks while Clint Dunathan of the Daily Press staff is on vacation.

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The Eisenhower administration has definitely rejected "pump priming" as a device to relieve U. S. unemployment.

President Eisenhower indicated this course of action in his March 24 press conference statement that no "slam bang" emergency program is needed. Developments since that time have confirmed the administration belief that indirect methods of bolstering the U. S. economy are better than government relief of any kind.

What this means is that the pleas made by AFL President George Meany, CIO President Walter Reuther, Harvard Economist Sumner Slichter, Democratic Sen. Paul Douglas of Illinois and others for a federal government action program to relieve unemployment are going to be ignored.

The political implications of this decision are summed up in a belief that while bad employment conditions may make it possible to lose an election, good employment conditions, by themselves, can't win the coming November elections.

THERE IS PLENTY of optimism in Washington for an October pickup in business. One indication of this is found in the Federal Reserve Board action, reducing bank reserve requirements and providing more credit for the normal fall harvest and crop movement.

There is also a prevalent feeling that all the pump priming of the Roosevelt era really did no good. What pulled the country out of the depression, it is explained, was the war spending.

What the country has been going through in the past year, according to the Republican point of view, is a shift from an inflationary war economy back to more normal peacetime business.

Government spending has been cut back by $10 billion. Over $7 billion of this has been returned to the civilian economy in the form of tax cuts.

The idea of making up the difference of $3 billion by a government spending program has been rejected. It is felt that to do so would cut back private spending by that amount and so delay recovery.

IT IS ADMITTED that government buying can't be stopped without causing some unemployment. The explanation is that, "We did this to ourselves," as a necessary readjustment. The problem it created is analyzed as how fast people can be put back to work on civilian goods production after cutting government defense spending.

While it is felt that the government might impede this recovery by doing the wrong thing, there is little that can be done by the government directly to speed it up. An inflationary spending program at this time is given as an example of a wrong action.

This philosophy puts entire reliance for the government's recovery program on indirect aids to the economy. Among the steps that the administration has taken in this direction are the removal of price and wage controls to free the economy for expansion, stabilization of the dollar, tax cuts and the tax reform bill passed by the House and now before the Senate.

THE IDEA of increasing personal exemptions for federal individual income taxes, as a means of providing more money for spending and so relieving unemployment, is still flatly rejected. On the other hand, particular emphasis is placed on the advisability of reducing taxes on dividends as a stimulus to investment and business expansion. This is regarded as the best way to create new employment.

Public works that contribute to America's productive capacity are not to be frowned on; if and when there is enough money to finance them. It is the "leaf-raking" type of government aid program to relieve unemployment that is rejected.

The seriousness of unemployment to workers without jobs—now numbering over three million—seems to be fully recognized. But there appears to be no inclination on the part of administration leaders to remedy the situation by direct government spending.

Personality Reflected In Way You Tote Wallet

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Did you know that the way you carry your wallet reflects your personality almost as much as the way you wear your face?

Howard N. Cooper, a psychiatrist, has analyzed the pocket-book-packing habits of American men and says they are "probably as good a test for individual psychological factors as the projective rorschach."

Editor's Note: What is a projective rorschach—a protruding rorschach?

Boyle's Note: No, it's an ink blot a psychiatrist makes. When he asks you what does the shape of the blot remind you of, and you say it reminds you of a girl, he makes a note in his book, "patient has girls on his mind."

Boyle's Note: How can you make an ink blot that doesn't look like some girl?

Feeling of Insecurity

Cooper (to get back to the subject) found that many men today periodically shift their wallet from the back pocket of their trousers to their inside coat pocket.

Conservation Contest Planned In Schools

LANSING (AP)—The first conservation contest in Michigan schools to honor the memory of the late P. J. Hoffmaster, state conservation director from 1934 to 1951, will be held during the 1954-55 school year.

The Percy J. Hoffmaster Memorial Fund Board announced that the contest was made possible by a special gift of $200 for prizes from Miss Genevieve Gillette of Ann Arbor.

Ultimately prizes for contests and other activities to promote conservation among the state's young people will be paid out of the income of a memorial trust fund. Contributions to the fund are now being collected.

MEMO TO ADVERTISERS

Q. What are the 3 most important rules for profitable newspaper advertising?

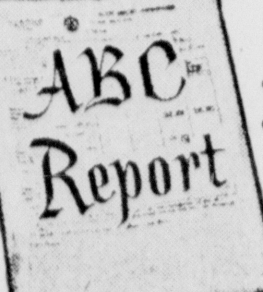

1. Your advertising message should be newsy, friendly, informative, easy to read. Give facts and news about your merchandise and service.
2. Advertise regularly. Make your advertising do what successful salesmen do—call on customers and prospects consistently.
3. Insist on audited circulation reports that give you the FACTS about the audience that your sales messages will have when you buy newspaper advertising.

Q. Is there a measure for the value of newspaper circulation to an advertiser such as the standards a merchant uses in buying merchandise—for example, like STERLING on silver?

A. Yes—in the well known circulation standards of the AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS.

Q. What is the A.B.C.?

A. The A.B.C. is a cooperative, non-profit association of 3,450 advertisers, advertising agencies and publishers in the United States and Canada. Organized in 1914. Brought order out of advertising chaos by establishing a definition for paid circulation, rules and standards for measuring, auditing and reporting the circulations of newspapers and periodicals.

Q. What does A.B.C. do for me?

A. At regular intervals one of the Bureau's large staff of experienced circulation auditors makes a thorough audit of the circulation records of each publisher member. The results of each audit are published in an easy-to-read A.B.C. report for your use and protection when you buy newspaper advertising.

Q. What are the FACTS in A.B.C. reports?

A. A.B.C. reports tell you how much circulation, where it goes, how obtained and other FACTS that help you buy advertising as you would make any sound business investment—on the basis of known values and audited information.

Q. Are all publications eligible for A.B.C. membership?

A. No. Only those with paid circulation. This is important to advertisers because it is evidence that the paper is wanted and read.

Q. Is this newspaper a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulations?

A. Yes. We are proud of our circulation. We want you to know the FACTS about the audience your selling messages will have when they appear in these pages. Ask for a copy of our latest A.B.C. report.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. (AP)—To hold down Lake Superior's water level, the Army Corps of Engineers announced today that 14 compensating dam gates at Sault Ste. Marie will be opened progressively over a five-day period.

The openings were ordered by the International Lake Superior Board of Control because of a sharp rise in the lake's level due to heavy rainfall. Opening of the gates is designed to hold the level to that agreed upon by the International Joint Commission.

Two gates will be opened next Thursday and three daily on the succeeding four days. Gradual opening is designed to prevent floods on the lower St. Marys River.

Michigan Leads 445 Seeking Info

Over half of the people personally inquiring at the Manistique Chamber of Commerce during late May and June were from Lower Michigan. Fred Helman, Chamber executive secretary, revealed Thursday.

The secretary also disclosed that Ann McGlothlin has been added to the Chamber staff for the summer months. She assumed her position Thursday and will remain until returning to Michigan State College in the fall.

Following Lower Michigan's 243, over half of the 445 person's stopping at the Chamber of Commerce, Illinois residents comprised the next largest number of visitors with 60.

Thirty-eight Indiana tourists inquired at the office, located in Triangle Park. Following Indiana were Ohio with 33; Wisconsin, 29; Canada, 14; Pennsylvania, 7; Minnesota, 5; Iowa, 4; Georgia, 3; California, Nebraska, New Hampshire and New York, all 2; and Kentucky, 1.

Helman has noticed a large increase in campers, carrying tents and boats, and especially whole families camping.

During 1953, 5,400 personal inquiries were made at the information center. In addition there were innumerable mail requests handled by Helman.

Telephone Strike Plans Debated

DETROIT (AP)—Union officials refused to say today whether a strike by 760 Western Electric Co. telephone installers in Michigan would affect statewide telephone service.

The installers, assigned to Michigan Bell Telephone Co. exchanges, were part of 16,000 CIO Communications Workers who struck across the nation Thurs day when contract negotiations broke down.

The dispute over wage increases could idle 18,400 Bell operators and maintenance workers in Michigan who belong to the same union. A union spokesman declined to say whether or when picket lines would be set up. "We don't want to give away our strategy," he said.

J. L. Galland, president of the striking Detroit local, said: "Picketing will start at the discretion of our union in New York City. The installers expect other CWA members to honor any picket lines set up at strategic locations."

Western Electric workers reported to work as usual yesterday morning, then left their jobs shortly before noon. There were 520 in Detroit and 240 over the rest of the state.

Michigan Bell workers have signed a new wage contract with their company. Union spokesmen said that although the new agreement contains a no-strike clause, it would not be construed to affect workers who won't cross a picket line.

The Western Electric workers install switchboards and other telephone equipment. Both Western Electric and Michigan Bell are subsidiaries of American Telephone and Telegraph Corp. The Western Electric contract expired May 2.

Highway Buyers Repay $78,435

MUSKEGON (AP)—G. Palmer Seeley and Mrs. Louis Porter Moon Ley will make full restitution to the state of $78,435.78 involved in the highway land deal conspiracy that sent them to prison, their attorneys said today.

The agreement was reached in a conference with Circuit Judge Noel P. Fox and Perry Maynard, assistant state attorney general.

Judge Fox signed an order stating that if the amount is paid within 30 days, or an $80,000 bond is posted within that time, he will lift the injunction tying up their property.

Seeley, former Grand Rapids right-of-way buyer for the State Highway Department, was sentenced to prison for 2½ to 5 years and Mrs. Ley, Muskegon real estate operator, for 1½ to 5 years by Judge Fox after they pleaded guilty of a conspiracy to defraud the state of upwards of $10,000.

Judge Fox noted at the time he sentenced them he was making no recommendation for minimum terms because the matter of restitution had not been settled.

He said today he would continue jurisdiction over the case until the money is restored to the state. Then, he said, he would consider the recommendation of minimum terms.

Maynard said the settlement was unique in that it was the first time restitution in any sizable amount had been made to the state after the persons involved began serving their prison terms.

Originally the state had claimed the conspiracy involved $91,000, but Maynard said the amount had been adjusted to the $78,435.78 figure following an investigation conducted by Judge Fox.

Allied Leaders Expect French Loss In Indochina

crisis have been held by Dulles with Australia's Foreign Minister Richard Casey, New Zealand's Ambassador Leslie Munro and Thailand's foreign minister, Prince Wan Wathayakon.

The ability of the free world to meet the Communist threat inside Indochina appears not to have been materially increased, Dulles' efforts to get going at once on a collective defense for Southeast Asia remain frustrated.

Governments Cool

The situation may best be seen in the light of two or three recent incidents. On March 29 the American government, through a speech by Dulles, issued an emergency call for "united action" to halt Communist expansion in Southeast Asia. Privately, officials were talking in terms of intervention in the Indochina war.

France and Britain were cool. In mid-April Dulles thought he had agreement to begin drawing up a 10-nation Southeast Asian pact. The British blocked his plans. Britain wanted no part of such a move before the Geneva conference. She promised to explore it when peace negotiations were ended.

Just before coming to Washington, Eden suggested a nonaggression system which would involve Western countries and Red China in guarantees to secure the safety of Indochina. This was an obvious bid by Britain for the support of India and if possible, Indonesia—countries the British knew would never join in a Southeast Asian anti-Communist pact.

Some of the nations most friendly to the United States in the Southwest Pacific and Southeast Asia are distressed by the way things have gone. The recently re-elected Australian government has hardened its position on Southeast Asia and now is urging action much faster than is Britain. New Zealand seems to have taken the same position.

Secretary Dulles has before him a plan to go ahead quickly and create some kind of a coalition by common understanding or agreement among nations willing to cooperate—and to do so with or without Britain.

U. S. Help Ruled Out

Watching parts of Indochina "go down the drain," as the saying is, the government clearly has been of two minds. Some authorities like Dulles (at least last March) and Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, felt the United States had to intervene to save Indochina. There were others who talked strongly and publicly about the possible need for intervention, among them Senate Republican Leader Knowland and Vice President Nixon. Still others such as Secretary of Defense Wilson made clear that no money nor authority was being asked of Congress for such action and Secretary of the Treasury

Mendes-France cannot tolerate them. Despite the winding trail followed by U. S. diplomacy over the past 12 weeks, the threat of American intervention does stand in the background.

There is some apprehension here that the Reds may get French recognition and with British efforts to improve relations with Red China, French acceptance of the Peiping regime would strengthen Red China's bid for membership in the United Nations in place of Nationalist China. The United States recognizes the Nationalists and its policy in that respect is rock-hard. The whole issue may well develop fast enough for a showdown in the U. N. meetings in the fall.

Negotiations Collapse

At the worst—and there is a possibility this is the way it may go—the Reds would take over a large area of Viet Nam and get political agreements covering the rest of that state and of Laos and Cambodia which would pave the way for successful Red infiltration and seizure of power later on.

There is a chance, of course, that the peace negotiations will collapse. Eisenhower and Churchill agreed to prepare for collective defense whether the war goes on or not.

The strong hope is now based, as one official put it, on a conviction that the Communists "simply can't be so stupid" as to throw away the opportunity to make an extremely favorable settlement in Indochina with the new Pierre Mendes - France government at Paris.

Young Father Admits Fatal Stabbing Of Son, 5, At Detroit

DETROIT (AP)—Homer Harrison, 22, pleaded guilty to a lesser charge of second degree murder in the stabbing death of his 5-year-old son, Eugene.

Recorder's Judge John A. Ricca set July 14 as the date for sentencing.

Harrison had been charged with first degree murder in the slaying. Judge Ricca accepted the new plea offered by Harrison's attorney Rouse Balmer. Balmer contended that the state had failed to prove malice or premeditation.

The factory worker's wife, Helen, testified that Harrison had asked her "permission" to kill a man of the first floor of their apartment.

Police testified Harrison tried to kill himself two days prior to the evening when he stabbed his son with a butcher knife. They said the stabbing followed a drinking spree.

Importance Of Grass Crop Emphasized By Specialist

Pasture Saves Valuable Soil

The word "grass" means different things to people in various walks of life. To the city dwellers, it may mean a fine lawn; to the golfer, a good fairway or green. It can also mean these things to the farmer but perhaps most important, grass is one of his most valuable crops. It has been said that should the harvest of grass fail for a single year, famine would depopulate the world.

Grass is a much used word these days, especially during grass silage and hay making time.

"When I think of grass, I think of it as another means towards soil conservation," said Irwin Ten Haken of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service. "A good hay or pasture crop is one of the vegetative methods used in dealing with soil erosion and depletion. It is called a soil-healer, soil builder, a necessary part in good crop rotations in addition to being a highly nutritious and cheap livestock feed."

Farmers in the Delta County Soil Conservation District are becoming more aware of this as the use of grass silage and fuller utilization of hay and pasture increases. The severe rains of June have proven the protective ability of a good grass cover on some of the soils within the county.

A good example is the Ed Bergman farm in Bark River where Bergman has been putting up grass silage recently. "I'm not worrying about my soil washing as all of it is covered by hay, pasture, or grain crops," said Bergman who is the chairman of the local soil conservation district. He is making grass silage exclusively this year as he did not plant any corn for silage. In addition to his grassland program, Bergman is using strip-cropping as a means to control fertility and soil loss on his farm.

"It has been stated that erosion takes 21 times as much fertility out of the average soil as does the growing of crops. With the use of soil conservation practices and a good grassland program, this erosion loss can be cut to almost nothing. It takes a combination of both," Ten Haken said.

Ten Haken is the soil conservationist assisting the Delta County Soil Conservation District and has his office in the post office building in Escanaba.

Many Farmers Can Cut Costs

Some dairy farms in Delta county have high costs while others have been able to operate at comparatively low cost, notes J. L. Heirman, Delta county agricultural agent.

A recent study in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan showed that some dairymen had costs one-half as high as others. This means that there is opportunity for quite a bit of improvement by some individual dairymen in Delta county, as well as in other parts of Michigan, according to R. T. Hartwig of Marquette, Michigan State College extension specialist in agricultural economics. A reduction in costs means a bigger net return to each individual farmer in Delta county. This is good business regardless of whether milk prices go down some more or start going up when supplies of milk become smaller.

Issue Cards To Wheat Farmers

Delta County wheat farmers are being issued wheat marketing cards, according to Irene Blomberg, county office manager of the Delta County ASC Committee. The official wheat marketing card, MQ-76, will be needed by every wheat farmer when marketing his 1954 crop. A marketing card will be issued to every wheat producer who shares in the wheat crop on any farm where the wheat acreage is not more than 15 acres and also to producers on farms where the wheat acreage is more than 15 acres and where the acreage allotment has not been exceeded.

Final measurement work on 1954 wheat acreage has now been completed and each wheat farmer who has exceeded his wheat allotment has been notified of the acreage that he would have to dispose of as green manure, cover crop, hay or pasture in order to avoid marketing quota penalties. Any wheat farmer who is not sure of where he stands as far as marketing quotas are concerned on his farm should get in touch with the Delta County ASC office located in the post office building at Escanaba.

All elevators, warehousemen, feed dealers, milling companies, and other wheat buyers are co-operating in the control of wheat marketing, beginning July 1. Commercial wheat buyers are required to maintain certain records and account for all wheat purchased during the marketing year July 1, 1954, through June 30, 1955.

Fertilizer Urged For Grass Meadows

CHICAGO—A "first-aid" treatment of fertilizer will help stunted legume-grass meadows get off to a fast start this spring, reports the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee. That is especially true where meadows were grazed hard and close last fall.

"Just what the farmer should use depends on the soil's plant nutrient level," says a statement issued by the committee.

"But if you want to be safe, agronomists recommend using a nitrogen, phosphate and potash fertilizer on meadows where grass makes up more than 50 per cent of the plants in the field. Where legumes predominate, a phosphate-potash combination is suggested.

"The agronomists say that in areas where potash is already high, straight phosphate will do the job."

The soils men caution that a spring top dressing does not take the place of fertilizer added with the seeding at planting time. Regular top dressing is a "must," they say, on long lay meadows if the legumes in the mixture are to be kept up and yields maintained at a high level.

Fresh milk now can be canned to keep as long as a year at room temperature.

vidual farmers who may buy wheat for feed or seed from other farmers that the farmer who is selling the wheat must show a marketing card showing that the wheat is free of any penalty, otherwise the farmer who buys the wheat is subject to payment of the penalty.

Food Key To Heavy Yields

By J. L. HEIRMAN
(County Agricultural Agent)

Potato growers searching for high production know that it takes plant food, plenty of it, to reach their yield goals. It takes about 125 pounds of nitrogen to produce a 300 bushel crop of potatoes. Growers supply their nitrogen to the crop in three ways:

They plow a legume sod or green manure crop, Apply barnyard manure, and use commercial fertilizer at planting time.

Many growers are asking the question—"Are we using enough nitrogen here in Delta County on our potato crop?" Generally speaking, I believe we are because we have plenty of top growth and usually it is deep green in color which indicates sufficient nitrogen. Usually enough nitrogen can be applied at planting time to last through the season. In light, sandy soils, however, leaching may deplete the nitrogen in a few weeks. If a pale green color is noted in the potato field and vine growth is slow, you may try a side dressing of 20-30 pounds per acre of nitrogen. This should be done when the plants are still small. One must also remember that adding nitrogen will delay maturity which is not always desirable where the growing season is short.

While chopped grass or corn can be dumped from the wagon directly into trench or stack silos, a blower provides more even spreading which results in better silage, according to a New Holland, Pennsylvania manufacturer.

The federal government owns about one-fourth of all the land in the United States.

Named In The Will:

Farmer Must Decide Who Is To Have Family Farm

Many farm owners hesitate to transfer their farms by will or agreement because of high transfer costs, taxes, or concern about their own welfare. Often these are excuses hiding their indecision about fair treatment of the heirs.

Some have heard rumors of family breakups and underhanded deals. Since they don't want to see their family torn by dissension and jealousy, they wait until the last possible time to make their decision. Sometimes this is too late.

Suppose a farmer had three or four children, but only one stayed on the farm. Chances are that this one has worked all his life with the general understanding that the farm would be his after his father died.

Generally, when the other children go to the city to work they earn much more money. They don't realize the sacrifice that their brother is making. When the father dies without a will there is liable to be dissatisfaction among the heirs.

Under Michigan laws, one-third of the property will go to the farmer's wife, with the remaining two-thirds split equally between the children.

Obviously, in a case where one son has worked at home, he expects preferential treatment, impossible should the case be taken to court.

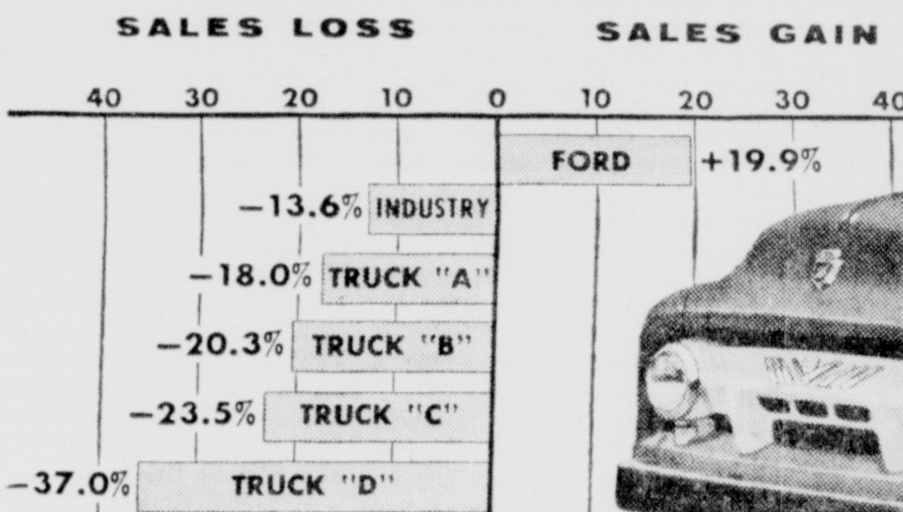

If the other children received money for education or to start a business, these grants should be considered in any equitable treatment for the son who stayed on the farm.

Consulting a lawyer in advance may save many dollars in the end, suggests Raleigh Barlowe, Michigan State College Agricultural Economist.

Strawberries Are Popular During Summer Months

There is nothing like strawberries for eye and taste appeal on warm summer days when appetites bog down, suggests Mrs. Hazel Crook, county home demonstration agent. Although this is the peak season for Michigan strawberries, shoppers can expect to find them priced in the luxury item class, warns George Motts, agriculture economist at MSC. Prices are higher this year than last because Michigan crop is one-fourth smaller.

Local berries are just coming on the market here in the U. P. and many home makers will be preserving them for next winter.

Here is a recipe for frozen strawberry jam which has been tried and tested by the Home Economics Extension Service of MSC:

2 cups finely mashed strawberries
4 cups sugar
1 package powdered pectin
1 cup water

Combine berries and sugar—let stand 20 minutes, stirring occasionally. Stir pectin into water. Bring to boil and boil one minute, add berries; stir about two minutes. Pour into sterilized glasses. Cover and let stand at room temperature 48 hours on until jelled. Seal with paraffin; store in freezer. (This jam will also keep several weeks in the refrigerator.)

If liquid pectin is used, omit the powdered pectin and water and use ½ bottle (½ cup) of liquid pectin. No cooking necessary.

Police Catch Armed Bandits

MANISTIQUE — City Policeman Lloyd Gray, with help from Manistique State Police Troopers
William Scales and Charles Spawr, Police Chief Roy Anderson, off-duty policeman George Danko and State troopers from Newberry and Gladstone, Thursday night apprehended two armed Lower Michigan men suspected of breaking and entering in Copper Harbor.

Bruce Dean Hammon, 20, of Flint, carrying a .32 caliber Savage automatic, and Robert Bruce Jackson, 22, Birch Run, sleeping with a .32 caliber "Saturday Evening Special" under his pillow, were taken without a fight between 9:15 and 9:45 p. m.

Their stolen car with a changed license plate was detected by Gray at Hollenbeck's Standard Service station here without the occupants. It had been left for lubrication and washing. Gray alerted the local State Police post and then found and arrested Hammon at the Snack Bar.

After Hammon disclosed that his partner was at the Cottage Grove Motel east of this city, the troopers and policemen surrounded Jackson's cabin. Jackson came out without difficulty, Scales said.

Wanted in Copper Country
The stolen automobile, a 1953 cream-colored convertible, had been reported missing Sunday from Detroit. It was owned by an F. Wilson. The two fugitives had stolen another convertible the previous week. That car was found June 12 near Kearsarge.

L'Anse State Police alerted all Upper Peninsula law enforcement agencies at 11:30 a. m.
Thursday to be watching for the two suspects. They were wanted for "breaking and entering" counts on the Keweenaw Peninsula. They were believed to have broken into two places Wednesday evening and Thursday morning in Keweenaw County. They were also known to be armed.

The L'Anse post also suspected the two men for a June 20-21 breaking and entering of a Kear-sarge bar. Fingerprints were left at that scene and the two men and a woman were traced to a tourist court at Baraga.

The two men and the one unidentified woman were also wanted for "investigation" by the East Tawas State Police post. They were desired for questioning on a "breaking and entering" charge filed June 25.

Short, light and with curly hair, the two men sat handcuffed at the Manistique State post before being taken to the Marquette County Jail at Marquette Thursday evening.

Had Liquor
Hammon wore a blond buckskin jacket, blue shirt, levis, white socks and sole-less moccasins. Jackson was dressed identically except for a white cotton shirt and no buckskin jacket. His jacket was found in the cabin.
Jackson also had a white "sailing cap" with a gold anchor in the front. Hammon's was same, but blue.

Hammon possessed $73.40 when apprehended, $33 in United States currency. Jackson had only $7.25, mostly in half-dollars. All of Hammon's $43.40 in change was in rolls of nickels, dimes, quarters and half-dollars.

Admit Downstate Jobs
Also in the possession of the two men, aside from the car, were three fifths of gin, one empty; a quart of gingerale, two expensive portable radios, one fifth of vodka, one fifth of Canadian whisky, a "peace-pipe" from Copper Harbor, clothing and other personal effects.

The men also told Trooper Spawr that they had sold a set of golf-clubs that they found in the car.

The two men were wanted for questioning in breaking and entering cases in Genesee, Bay and Isosco counties. They will be taken to East Tawas. State police reported the men have admitted many of the breaking and entering charges and also the theft of several cars.

Police reported that match-sticks left by the two men in a Baraga tourist court proved to be a major factor in tracing the suspects.

Illegal Possession Of Buck Costs $17.50

Called a "rare" violation by Conservation Officer Ernie Der-win, Ralph Kennedy, Cooks, was sentenced Thursday in Justice Court for illegal possession of game without a permit. Fourteen dollars of Kennedy's $10 fine and $7.50 costs were suspended.

Kennedy had kept a legally killed buck in a local cold-storage locker since November. A violation of the state conservation laws. He should have obtained a permit in order to keep the deer in storage. A permit is needed if a killed game animal is retained in storage over 60 days after the close of the hunting season.

More people get more news from newspapers than from all other sources combined.

MADRID, Iowa — The First of the nuptial ceremony Sunday afternoon at 2:30 uniting in marriage Miss Carolyn Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William R.

Miller of Madrid, and Thomas C.
Massy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Massy of Manistique.

Rev. Henry T. Hackman offici-and Carl Peterson was the organist, playing the nuptial music. Lester Moore sang "With This Ring" and "That Wonderful Mother of Mine" and during the ceremony

The altar was decorated with candelabra and two baskets of white gladiolus and green carnations.
Preceding the ceremony
ushers, Charles Gregg and Donald Welder, lighted candles. The other usher was Robert Gustafson.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a ballarina length gown of white lace over net and satin and had a lace jacket which had scallops around the edges and the lace sleeves extended to points over the wrists.
Her lace trimmed fingertip veil was attached to a taria of mock orange blossoms. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and pom poms with Nile green net and white streamers.

The matron of honor, Mrs.
Wayne Erickson of Madrid, sister of the bride, wore a ballarina length Nile green net gown over Nile green satin with a lace jacket identical to the brides only short sleeved.

Miss Mima Gregg of Kelly, and Miss June Davis of Perry, friends of the bride, were bridesmaids and wore identical gowns to that of the matron of honor. All three carried colonial bouquets of white pom poms and wore Nile green net head bands. The head bands and the three lace jackets of the bridesmaids and the matron of honor were made by the bride's mother.

Robert Lee of Perry, a friend of the bridegroom, was best man.
Wayne Erickson and Larry Miller

in the wedding party wore busi-tered with a four tiered cake decorated with the bride's chosen colors of Nile green and white and topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom. The cake was made by Mrs. Art Gustafson. After the bride and bridegroom cut the tradi-

Four Injured In Auto Crash

Turning left into the path of an oncoming vehicle injured four, one seriously, in a 7:15 p. m. crash on U. S. Route 2 three miles west of M-135 Thursday. The two automobiles involved were both heavily damaged, according to Newberry State Police reports.

Mrs. Edna Rushton, 66, was in serious condition at Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital. She had fractures of both legs, pelvis and spine and suffered from severe shock, according to Dr. Merle Wehner.
She was sitting in the front seat of the vehicle when the accident occurred.

Her husband, Art Rushton, 64, was driver of the left-turning automobile. He suffered cuts and bruises and x-rays failed to reveal any fractures. The other passenger in the turning car, Mrs. Emma Coates, 67, had a fractured skull, lacerations of the face and contusions. She was also suffering from shock. All three are residents of Waskada, Manitoba.

Jim Archambeau, Baraga, was the only occupant of the 1953 sedan which struck Rushton's automobile. Archambeau had lacerations of the eyes and contusions.
He was driving west at 60 miles per hour when he collided with Rushton's automobile, "nearly stopped." The Canadians were attempting to turn into Fuller's Birchill Cabins in Newton Township, Mackinac County. They were headed east.

Archambeau's sedan suffered $1,800 worth of damage to the left-front body. The Canadian car had its right-front side smashed-in, according to reports of Trooper
Charles Hinman, Newberry.

Rushton said that he "did not see the other car" approaching.
The accident occurred on a level, straight road.

1,300,000 Tons Leave Inland Since April 7

Although production is down 20 per cent due to lower steel company demands, Inland Lime and Stone Co., has shipped over 1,300-000 tons of limestone from their
Port Inland plant. Since April 7 150 boatloads of Inland stone have been shipped to many ports on the Great Lakes.

Because of the lowered demands
Inland will only produce about 3-800,000 tons this season whereas 4,500,000 was shipped during 1953.
Steel has experienced about a 30 per cent drop, contributing to the Inland slack.

high school and served 5 years in the navy. For her going away outfit the bride wore a pink two piece dress and a corsage of white roses.

After a short honeymoon they will leave here for Manistique, where they will make their new home.

One In Eighth Tops Guardsmen

Pitcher John Kasun's hit to right, following on the heels of a single by Raymond Cummings, gave Top O' Lakes one run in the eighth inning to end a 7-7 deadlock and beat the National Guard, 8-7, Thursday in City Softball League play at Central Park.

In the first game of the evening
Fords walloped Inland Lime and Stone by 11-3, scoring runs in every frame but the sixth. Clyde Strasler hurled all the way for the winners, besting Earl Tufnell.

The Lakers had tied up the later contest on hits by Wally Morin and ek Morin sandwiched around a walk to John Matthews.
Two runs came across to knot the score against the offerings of Warren Wilson.

The Guardsmen ant scoreless in their half of the seventh after forging ahead, 7-5, with a marker in the sixth. The losers gained their big clusters in the third and fourth frames after sending one man across in the first and second stanzas.

Bill Holm doubled, Marv Anderson stroled and Francis Rochford cleared the paths with a triple to score two in the third. In the fourth Warren Wilson hit safely.
Don A. son received a pass, and Ed Busch drove both home with a single.

The victors had scored three in the third and one in the fourth and fifth cantos to press the Guard. Ed Doyle, relieving Wilson at the start of the eighth, absorbed the loss.

The Fords jumped to a 4-0 lead in their fray and added three in the second to increase their margin. They notched one run in every other inning but the sixth.

Softball Wins Posted By Merchants, Harnies

The Merchants and Harnischfeger scored softball victories in the American League last night at Memorial Field with the former moving into a tie for the No. 1 spot in the standings.

The Merchants topped Clairmont Transfer 7-2 behind five-hit hurling by Vern Johnson, new member of the mound staff. Harnischfeger edged past Northland Bred, 1-0, in one of the season's best pitching battles. Pat Moran fired two-hit ball while fanning six and walking two for the Harnies. Ken Dufresne allowed four hits, fanned two and didn't issue a walk from the Northland mound.

Scoreless Battle
The teams battled through six and a half innings in a scoreless deadlock before Harnischfeger

Martinez Hands Aragon Beating

By BOB MYERS

HOLLYWOOD — Vince Martinez of New Jersey, having removed the glitter from "Golden Boy" Art Aragon, today challenged welterweight champion Kid Gavilan and hung out a $100,000 bait for a title match in Los Angeles this autumn.

Martinez' manager, Bill Daly, after his 25-year-old puncher handed Aragon the worst beating of his career Thursday night, announced: "I am ready to guarantee Gavilan $100,000 to defend his title here against Vince."

Martinez did everything but knock the Los Angeles veteran out in winning a 10-round decision. Aragon's face was a bloody mess. He had slashes around both eyes which were almost shut tight, his nose was broken and his mouth was cut.

Referee Abe Routh gave unranked Vince 59 points to 51, judge Frankie Van matched it, and judge Reggie Gilmore called it 60-50. The Associated Press scored it 60-50.

Martinez, 146, winning his 38th victory in 41 fights, did not receive a scratch. But eighth ranked Aragon weighing 145½, knocked Martinez dizzy in the fifth and seventh rounds.

Musial Regains Top All-Star Vote Spot

CHICAGO — Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals today regained the lead as the highest individual vote getter in the All-Star baseball poll.

Musial, six-time National League batting champion, passed Yogi Berra, New York Yankees catcher, by 3,855 votes in the voting contest which will be ended at midnight Saturday.

Musial's total climbed to 758,191 votes.

Final returns in the balloting will be announced Monday.

The complete squads for the inter-league game, to be played at Cleveland July 13, will be announced by the National and American Leagues Tuesday.

Temper Nearly Costs Middlecoff Chance In Motor City Golf Open

By JOE FALLS

DETROIT — Dave Douglas held a one stroke lead and Cary Middlecoff held his temper as the Motor City Open reached the midway point today.

Douglas took the lead Thursday with a three-under-par 68 — an amazing record in view of the fact he suffered a two stroke penalty because a tee shot sailed out of bounds.

Middlecoff, a pre-tournament favorite, nearly blew up on the fifth green. His 29-foot putt flirted with the cup and missed, and the Memphis, Tenn., dentist, in mild rage, kicked his club. It broke, leaving him without a putter.

Ready To Quit
"I was ready to quit," Middlecoff said. "I had never broken a club as a pro and it burned me up. I was going to pick up but

In This Corner

With Ray Crandall

With official assurance from Charles Forsythe that the Upper Peninsula Junior Golf tournament will not endanger high school eligibility, tourney officials here are expecting a larger field of entrants than last year. In addition to the local youngsters, entries are starting to come in from distant points in the Upper Peninsula. The addition of a B flight for younger players this year will also help swell the field.

Dr. Fred Hirn of Escanaba was recently named chairman of the rules committee for the Upper Peninsula Golf Association tournament in August at Menominee. . . . Hugh Cavill, president of the host North Shore Club, was elected president of the Association for the 40th annual U. P. tourney.

We hear talk in softball circles of another entry in the seven-team American League. . . . Anderson Brothers of Rapid River, currently playing in the National League, is said to be thinking of joining the faster circuit if possible.

One of the games on the football schedule for the new Holy Name Catholic High School this fall will be against a highly regarded Green Bay Catholic Central eleven. . . . Ted Fritsch's Cadets last season notched a victory over Chicago's city champions.

Manistique is losing a good friend of boxing in Fr. George Pernaski who has been assigned as pastor at Grand Marais. . . . Fr. Pernaski had a great deal to do with the recent successes of Manistique boxing teams and had done a lot to help promote the annual Upper Peninsula Golden Gloves tournament which is staged in Escanaba each year.

The Escanaba Bears proved they have the ability to come from behind when they edged Bark River 4-3 here Wednesday evening. . . . Three runs by the Bears in the fifth inning looked mighty big with Joe Rademacher tough on the Bark River hill. . . . But the Bears cut it down with two in the sixth and then chased Rademacher in the seventh and scored two more to win.

Drobny Gets Third Wimbledon Chance

By ROBERT JONES

WIMBLEDON, England — Willy Jaroslav Drobny, "the best player never to win at Wimbledon," gets his third chance at tennis' biggest title today when he meets young Ken Rosewall of Australia for the Wimbledon singles championship.

Drobny, now 32, would be the oldest Wimbledon champion since Bill Tilden broke the six-year French monopoly in 1930 if his drop shots and cute stuff prove too much for the 19-year-old Aussie ace. Rosewall, on the other hand, would be the youngest champion since 1891, when 16-year-old W. Baddeley won the title.

Drobny bowed to Ted Schroeder on the famed court in 1949 and to Frank Sedgman three years later. He has lost in the semi-finals six times.

Rosewall will be playing in the final for the first time.

The top-rated Aussie doubles pair of Rex Hartwig and Mervyn Rose 4-6, 6-4, 6-2, 6-1 whipped Budge Patty of Los Angeles and Paris and Gardnar Mulloy of Coral Gables, Fla., in one semi-final Thursday. In the other, Tony Trabert of Cincinnati and Vic Seixas of Philadelphia trounced Rosewall and Lew Hoad, also of Australia, 6-3, 7-5, 3-6, 4-7, 8-6.

Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., outgeneraled Doris Hart of Coral Gables, Fla., 2-6, 6-3, 6-3 in one women's semi-final. Maureen Connolly of San Diego, who whipped Louise for the title two years ago, overwhelmed Mrs. Betty Pratt of South Orange, N. J., 6-1, 6-1.

The women's singles final along with all the doubles finals, will be played Sunday.

Wayne Votes To Retain Football

DETROIT — A losing football team, which also lost $34,000 for the Wayne University budget last year, won a vote of confidence and continuance Thursday.

The Detroit Board of Education which governs the school, turned down a recommendation by university president Clarence Hilberry to abandon the intercollegiate football competition after next season.

Abandonment was the recommendation also of the University Council, made up of faculty members, and the Council of Deans.

Pre-vote counters said the Board of Education would vote 4-3 in favor of turning down the sport. But instead, on the vote of William D. Merrifield, the sport was upheld 4-3. Merrifield had previously indicated he was against keeping Wayne football.

The vote Thursday was the first thing Wayne's football team had won in quite a while. Last season the team had won three games, lost four and tied one. In 1952 the record was 4-4-0.

Football coach Lou Zarza's contract runs out next April.

Confident Babe Tied For First

By BOB HOOBING

PEABODY, Mass. — Confident Babe Zaharias entered the second round of the Women's National golf tournament today with the prediction: "I'm just liable to be going from here on in."

The drawing Babe was tied for the lead with junior high school teacher Claire Doran of Cleveland at a par-matching 72 on the Salem Country Club course.

"I'm really pounding that tee shot," she beamed after giving an extraordinary performance of her vaunted power. Observers agreed she put on her finest exhibition since cancer struck her down 15 months ago.

Miss Doran, lacking the power of the Babe, she depended on well paced approach shots and excellent putting.

Mary (Mickey) Wright, teen-age psychology major at Stanford University was two strokes behind. Betty Hicks of Durham, N. C., had a 75, and Louise Suggs, leading money winner this year a 76.

Caverretta Will Play First Base Tonight

CHICAGO — Phil Caverretta, former Chicago Cub manager who starred for the White Sox against his old teammates Thursday night, will find himself an active participant in a pennant fight for the first time since 1945 when the Sox played at Cleveland tonight.

Caverretta got a White Sox 4-run fourth inning rally into high gear Thursday night when he doubled after Minnie Minoso had led off with a walk. Although the Sox bowed to their crosstown foes, 7-6, on Ernie Banks' single in the ninth, Caverretta was given a terrific ovation by fans from both sides of town when he was replaced by pinch runner, Ron Jackson.

The former Cub manager also drew a big cheer from the noisy gallery of 22,755 when he came to bat in the second inning. He

Ask Mayor To Boost Crowds

By BILL LOFTS

PHILADELPHIA — The Philadelphia Athletics have turned in desperation to the city's mayor for help in bolstering their attendance.

Mayor Joseph S. Clark Jr. said today the problem is simple: If Quaker City residents want the franchise to stay in Philadelphia they've got to get out and see the A's play.

Now in their 54th year in Philadelphia, the Athletics have drawn only about 125,000 paid admissions for 34 home games. To break even this year the A's need at least a half million paid attendance. To keep their farm system operating, a minimum attendance of 750,000 is necessary.

Clark has called for a meeting on July 8, of 75 leading citizens to form a "Mayor's Committee to Keep The Athletics in Philadelphia."

Two weeks ago, Roy and Earle Mack, present owners with their father, Connie Mack, went to Clark and told him the situation. They said that Minneapolis, Dallas, Kansas City, Houston and possibly Los Angeles, were interested in the A's franchise.

Menominee Enters 6 Junior Golfers

Six entries received this morning from the Menominee Riverside Golf club swelled the roster of competitors for the second annual Upper Peninsula Junior Golf tournament sponsored by the Escanaba Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Escanaba Daily Press.

The entries sent here by Irving Johnson, club professional at Menominee, are Ken Hruska, Frank Laurent, Michael Pichette, Arnie Pichette, Harvey Whitton and Richard Tebo.

Laurent, Mike Pichette and Whitton are 14-year-olds, Hruska and Arnie Pichette are each 15 years old and Tebo is 16.

Tourney sponsors are urging as many younger fellows as possible to enter and gain the experience of tournament competition. Because some youngsters hesitate to enter because they feel they haven't a chance to win, arrangements have been made for a Class B for 14 and 15-year-old competitors. However, should any 14 or 15-year-old entrant shoot well enough to win or to gain one of the 10 qualifying places for the state tourney in Jackson, Mich., he of course will qualify for the state classic.

Youngsters in this area planning to compete are reminded that the deadline for turning entries in at the Escanaba, Gladstone or Highland Golf clubs is Monday, July 5. Out-of-town golfers must submit their entries

Cubs Batter Hermansville For 18 Hits To Win, 19-3

The Eskey Cubs slugged two Hermansville hurlers for 18 base knocks, including seven for extra sacks, while turning in a 19-3 exhibition victory here last evening.

Ricky Erickson tossed a neat two-hitter with 15 strikeouts and four walks for Coach Al Ness' team.

Four Cubs collected three hits each and all but two in the lineup hit safely at least once off Schultz and Whittens who shared the hill for Hermansville. And only one Cub failed to score a run in the game.

Catcher Allan Erickson led the bat barrage with a triple, double and single in five trips. Cliff O'Donnell, who scored five runs Dave Viaw and Joe Juetten also doubled. Ricky Erickson matched Allan Erickson's three-bagger and Bucky Flath homered in the third with two mates on base.

The two hits registered by Hermansville came off the bat of Whittens in the first and third innings.

After each team scored a run in the first inning, the Cubs broke loose with seven in the second and then scored in every inning but the fourth to win with ease.

Rotary Stops Lions By 11-1

Rotary of the Jaycee Little League finally got back in the winning column last night as Tom Eleger stopped the Lions, first half champions, 11-1.

After a shaky first inning Eleger spaced two hits over the rest of the route while his mates climbed on Kris Fitzpatrick and Bob Rosemurgy for 12 safeties.

Dick Olson, Rotary third baseman, led the attack with two hits in four trips. Del Demars paced the Lions with two for three.

The game closed out the first half of the Little League season. Second half play will begin next Thursday with Rotary meeting Kiwanis and the Lions playing St. Joe Boosters on Friday.

All-Star practice will be held Saturday, Tuesday and Wednesday starting at 6:30.

Cunningham Hits Majors With Home Run Outburst

By CHRIS EDMONDS

MILWAUKEE — Joe Cunningham, young St. Louis Cardinals' first baseman who has hit three homers and driven in nine runs in two games as a major leaguer, says:

"Man, this is just like a dream."

It was just two nights ago, after an International League double-header with Havana, Cuba, that the 22-year-old Cunningham found out he was coming up to the Cardinals from their Rochester, N. Y., farm club.

"They told me that night, after we got through, that at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning I was to go up to the Cardinals," he said with a shy grin. "I had all my stuff at the cleaners and the only pants

Flath's homer sailed high over the left-center field fence. He also cracked a pair of singles in five times at plate.

Yanks Hope For Big Break

(By The Associated Press)
The New York Yankees now can hope that Cleveland and Chicago knock each other around enough for the Yanks to slip into the American League lead.

Cleveland, now leading by three games, has to play the second place White Sox eight times between tonight and a week from Sunday.

Senators No Pushover
During the same spell the Yankees will be meeting fifth place Washington in seven games. Right here may be the kicker. The Yanks should win most or all of those games, but so far, the Senators have won five of the nine games they've played.

Cleveland and Chicago have met eight times with the White Sox winning five.
New York was the only one of the American League contenders that played Thursday. The Yankees jumped away to a 7-0 lead at Boston but had to struggle for an 8-7 victory. This left the Yanks 3½ games out of first place.

Giants Sweep Series
In the National League the New York Giants swept into a four-game lead by whipping Brooklyn for the third straight day, 5-2. St. Louis crushed Milwaukee 9-2 with Stan Musial and rookie Joe Cunningham hitting two home runs each. No other games were scheduled in either league.

Johnny Sain, who has allowed only 8 runs in 35 2-3 innings of relief pitching, came to the Yankees' rescue in Boston and shutout the stubborn Red Sox through the final three innings. Home runs by Mickey Mantle, Hank Bauer and Andy Carey were the big blows in the Yanks' 12-hit attack.

The Giants used another of their late-inning climaxes to hogtie the Dodgers. After Brooklyn had pulled into a 2-2 deadlock in the seventh on home runs by Roy Campanella and Carl Furillo, the Giants came back with three in the eighth. The first two of the three came as pinch hitter Dusty Rhodes duplicated his game winning single of Tuesday night with the bases loaded.

A single, a throwing error by Roy Campanella on a sacrifice bunt and a walk by Erv Palica set it up for Dusty, who batted for Monte Irvin.

Homer Happy
Cunningham, brought up to the Cardinals Wednesday as a replacement for Tom Alston, hit one home run in his first major league game Wednesday night in Cincinnati and drove home four runs with his two blows into the right field seats at Milwaukee Thursday.

Musial's homers were his 25th and 26th of the season.
Harvey Haddix, the league's biggest winner, was struck on the leg by a line drive off the bat of Joe

Adcock in the fourth inning, fears of a fracture were dismissed by a hospital examination, but he probably will be out 10 days.

Ted Kluszewski will never get over the 1951 season when he was profiled in a magazine with emphasis on the home movies he used to study his swing—and promptly dropped to a disastrous 259, followed by this persistent chant in rival dugouts each time he stepped to the plate: Click, Klu, where's your camera? Click, click, Look at the birdie"... Home movies are now out...

Birdie Tebbetts refused to discuss Yogi Berra's merits with us... "This is a National League clubhouse," was his succinct remark...

Last spring Milwaukee first baseman Joe Adcock dubbed rookie Henry Aaron "Slow Motion" because of his Stepin Fetchit shuffle... but as the season progressed and Aaron's tempo stepped up, it's become plain "Hank"... We were watching Ben Hogan giving a post-Open golf clinic at the Englewood, N. "Just follow what I tell you," said Ben, "and anybody can shoot a 70"—then a smile—"at every place but Baltusrol."

To catch the swerving knucklers of Hoyt Wilhelm, Wes Westrum uses a specially designed glove... Hoyt's flut-terball is one of the fastest ever...

Now that the Air Academy is on its way, with an athletic director already appointed, wouldn't jet pilot Doc Blanchard be the logical man as the first head football coach?

Greyhound, Famous Racer, 22 Years Old

CHICAGO (P)—The incomparable Greyhound of harness racing fame strutted around the track at Sportsman's Park Thursday night in what may be his last appearance.

The big gray trotter was celebrating his 22nd birthday. He is the holder of 15 world records in only $900.

Before he retired in 1940, Greyhound had run a record 1:55¼ mile in 1939 and had beaten the two-minute mile 22 times. Altogether, he ran 78 heats, winning 71 of them, finishing second five times, third once and fourth once.

Tigers Hope Things Are Quite Now In Baltimore

BALTIMORE (P)—The Detroit Tigers hope things are quiet in Baltimore so wounds can heal and the margin over the second division can grow.

If past history is a safe measuring stick, the Tigers are on safe ground. More than a quarter of their 31 victories this season have come from the Baltimore Orioles.

The Tigers have beaten Baltimore eight times against two losses.

Now with two regulars hurt, the

Haddix Likely To Lose Three Starts

MILWAUKEE (P)—Harvey Haddix, ace St. Louis Cardinals' left-hander, will miss only three pitching turns as the result of his injury here Thursday.

"He'll be out about 10 days—three turns—", said manager Eddie Stanky.

Haddix was hit just below the left kneecap by a line drive off Joe Adcock's bat in the fourth inning of a game with Milwaukee.

The ball caromed off but Haddix pounced on it to throw Adcock out at first. Then he collapsed.

His injury was diagnosed at a hospital as contusions and abrasions.

The young lefthander has a 12-4 record going into the game.

Tigers are concerned with expanding their lead over the second division. They are currently in fourth place 16 games behind the league leading Cleveland Indians.

Only 2½ games behind Detroit are the Washington Senators. The distance between Detroit and the cellar is a not-too-healthy six games.

The Tigers are interested too in getting catcher Frank House's health batting average back into the lineup. House has a badly cut face. The Tigers are also doing without the services of second baseman Fred Hatfield, whose finger is broken.

The Tigers expect to use Al Aber against Baltimore in the first of three game series tonight. He'll face Joe Coleman.

Eleanor Cancels Trip To Russia

NEW YORK (AP)—Within hours of scheduled departure time, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt canceled plans for a trip to Russia because Soviet officials had withheld a visa for a trained newsman or Russian speaking writer to accompany her.

At a news conference in the office of Look magazine for which she was to make the trip to write of her observations, the widow of the former President suggested perhaps the Soviet union was trying to force her to go on its terms or "mistrusted" her. Or, she said, it might be just inefficiency.

In any event she said this month was the only time she had available for the month-long trip so she was canceling her plans. She was scheduled to leave at 4 p.m.

Mrs. Roosevelt said visas had been granted her and her secretary, Miss Patricia Baillargeon, but that an application for William Attwood, Paris editor for Look, had been "completely ignored."

Firm Partner Starts Vacation, Finds His Own Safe In Street

NUNICA (AP)—Leo Brown was leaving town on his vacation when he spotted what looked like a safe lying in the street. He stopped to investigate.

It was a safe, alright, and it belonged in the R. S. Brown & Sons Grain Elevator in which Brown is a partner. It was badly battered but unopened.

Brown and his mother, Mrs. Ada Brown, declined to say how much money was in it.

Grand Haven State Police said thieves apparently had failed to open the 1,100-pound safe in the elevator and had attempted to carry it away, only to have it fall accidentally from their car or truck.

New Rules Cut NLRB Caseload

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Labor Relations Board, in a major move to switch some of the federal government's labor jurisdiction to the states, has adopted new rules which in effect exempt thousands of small firms from the Taft-Hartley law.

Unions generally have opposed giving the states more power over labor relations problems should be settled at the local level.

Small Cases Out

It was reliably estimated by NLRB sources that the new rules, announced Wednesday, will knock out 15 or 20 per cent of the board's present caseload which has been running at about 14,000 a year.

An NLRB spokesman said other changes are planned in the future to surrender more federal jurisdiction. However, the courts have left uncertain just how far states can go in cases where the federal government has voluntarily surrendered jurisdiction in cases affecting interstate commerce.

None of the NLRB rules changes were made unanimously by the five-member board. Cases in which the new policies were established have not been made public.

In one rule change, the NLRB said that henceforth it won't take a case unless an employer does at least $50,000 annual business in interstate commerce. The prior dollar - volume requirement was $25,000.

Dollar Limits Set

It voted, too, to take no case of a supplier unless the amount of goods and services he supplied to interstate commerce is $100,000 a year. Previously the requirement was $50,000 and the goods or services did not have to move in interstate commerce as long as the buyer was in interstate business.

Trucking firms in interstate commerce which do at least $100,000 a year business with interstate firms will come under NLRB jurisdiction. Previously there was no dollar amount required.

The NLRB surrendered outright its previous jurisdiction over office buildings and their employees where the buildings had tenants in interstate commerce.

A franchise from a national enterprise would not be sufficient alone, unless the franchise holder meets one of the other dollar-volume requirements, to bring a company under NLRB jurisdiction.

Finally, the NLRB abolished a previous rule applying its jurisdiction to firms that met a combination of the dollar-volume requirements but not any single one.

DOUBLE DUTY—Here's a boat that is just as much at home on land as on water. The swamp vehicle was designed by an oil company in Tulsa, Okla., to carry seismograph equipment through the swamps and mud flats of Venezuela. It is said to be able to carry several hundred pounds of equipment over soggy land, and can cruise in shallow water.

Governor Of Ohio Denies He's 1956 Presidential Timber

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's Democratic governor described as "fantastic" reports that he is being discussed as a potential candidate for president in 1956. "In my opinion that is fantastic," Gov. Frank J. Lausche said in a nationally televised interview over an NBC hookup.

Lausche acknowledged that friends had expressed the hope that he would be a presidential candidate but he asserted they were carried away by sentiment. The former Cleveland mayor expressed "unbounded respect for what the President of the United States is trying to do."

Reiterating his remarks to newsmen, Lausche said: "I have no ambitions of any character whatsoever beyond the boundaries of Ohio." Lausche has been governor longer than any other Ohioan. Now in his fourth two-year term, he is the Democratic nominee for a fifth term. No other Ohio governor has served more than three terms.

Indianapolis Man Shoots Down 8

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—A berserk rifle marksman gunned down eight persons, one of them his wife, Wednesday in a blazing battle against a large group of policemen armed with two armored cars and submachine guns.

The battle outside a house at 733 N. Elder on the West Side continued more than an hour. The man was identified as Howard Ellis.

Police swarmed outside the residence, firing submachine guns from the two armored cars. Tear gas shells also were fired into the splintered frame home. The police radio echoed repeated calls for ammunition after an hour of heavy gunfire.

The wounded included: Mrs. Ellis, 36; Victor Osborne, 29; Detective George Wood, 29; and Policemen Merlen Lyon, Patrick Gaughan, 30, Edward Clouse, 30, and Paul White.

White was reported in critical condition in General Hospital with a chest wound.

Police were called to the house after Mrs. Ellis, shot twice, stumbled to the home of a neighbor, Mrs. Donna Yates.

Police said a report that five children were inside the house was not true.

The police radio dispatched a second armored car to the scene an hour after the battle started.

Police evacuated neighbors from adjacent houses and ordered nearby residents to stay indoors.

More people get more news from newspapers than from all other sources combined.
